

In any intimate friendship, at some point of time, the no-toreity of "hormones" comes into play!!! Hence, scientifically proved that a boy and a girl can never remain just friends!!!
- Parth Shah (3rd Final)

Yeah, of course!! Bt it takes time...Boys are loyal, confident and clear as to whether they want a good girl friend or a girl as a good friend.... on the other hand girls are confused n complicated, n hav mood swings... From the very start, they think that the guy is hitting on them, bt with time, if the guy wants, they can be friends

MURMUR

Erasing Failures by: Pratiksha Kapadia, III
Candle illuminates a spark so profound
Zeal endeavours the goal so soundly
Rebellion with mark produces a ray of light
Isolation from failure requires toiling and burning nights
Astonished was I when I recalled these lines,
Brimming stream of faith thundered my restless signs
Power of grief rose to power of perseverance
Equipped I was to the fullest of my strength, immense was my destination now
Smelling of rose sweat, time passed somehow...
Finally I came to the harbour of my dreams,
Yes! I searched a shining cascade beyond dirty creams...
I got the same hidden pearl, but for this time-
It illuminated with courage the weary breath of mine
Two sides of the same coin or a joker;
As in or out of circus-Have learned from the creator,
Life carries a deeper meaning beyond dreams
It has countless pages of concrete reality
Every bit of flowing sand from your hand-
As equal to striking arrows of bliss from tough arch...
Hit the arrows beyond fences of limitation and-
YOU MARCH...

Hallmark offers thousands of different cards for Valentine's Day, but the one card which became the top choice for this special day, is romantically named '330-5', that simply states: "Each time I see you, hold you, think of you, here's what I do... I fall deeply, madly, happily in love with you. Happy Valentine's Day."
The oldest evidence of valentine dates back to 1475. It is a poem written by Charles, Duke of Orleans to his wife. At the time, the duke was being held in the Tower of London following his capture at the Battle of Agincourt.
Teachers receive the most valentines, followed by kids, mothers, wives and sweethearts.

DISSECTION : 'The pursuit of Happiness'

Cast: Will Smith (as Chris Gardner)
Jaden Smith (as Jaden Christopher Syre Smith)
Director: Gabriele Muccino
Writer: Steve Conrad
Genre: Biography, Drama
Run time: 1 hr 57 mins
Yeah, I'm a movie freak. I watch a lot of movies. So many that I rarely pause and think how actually the movie was! But sometimes you happen to stumble upon a piece of 'art' that makes you stand up and say, 'Wah! That was something!!'
Based on a true story about a man named Christopher Gardner, though a bit slow paced, the movie is an inspiring tale of faith, determination, persistence and belief in yourself, even in face of all adversities.
It is a story of a struggling salesman faced with a poor market for his huge investment, being deserted by his wife, left with the burden of single parenting a pre-school kid, faced with severe financial crisis and rendered homeless and virtually jobless. In his quiet moments he sheds a quiet tear for his situation but never ever loses faith. The man simply refuses to break down. Building on his inner conviction of strength to be able to rise above the plight he currently was in, he looks for opportunities and stumbles onto one. In the form of internship at a stock marketing firm here again he proves that getting an opportunity is not just enough, it takes sheer hard work to turn it into his winning card. The way he works for getting selected at the firm, competing other interns, studying, trying to earn, finding a place to sleep, all along keeping the morale of his little kid from breaking, rather inspiring the chap to take life with a stiff upper lip and never backing down is simply awe-inspiring. He never lets anyone of his superiors even guess about his plight, never looks for an ounce of sympathy from other, taking what comes, doing his part, and almost literally, changes the course of his destiny by the sheer sweat of his brow. His ups and downs, his struggles, yet that never-complaining, never-give-up attitude tells something... that when life is not about all smiles and sunshine, when your life seems far from happy, it's something that has to be pursued and after that long, tiresome, often delusional chase, when you get to taste it, the feel is just sublime. It might just be the feel Christopher Gardner had when his boss announces his acceptance at the firm, pulling him out of the marshland of misery, bringing tears of joy to his eyes. It is a moving account of how a man can turn from rags to riches. In spite of everything pointing against such a possibility, I found Will Smith's acting very convincing. His emotions were so well brought out, that I almost broke into tears of joy when he finally made it through! (Makes you wonder if this the same guy who jokes around in bad boys and the hit!!)
All in all, it's a nice change from those high octane action flicks we usually watch a bit slow, but with a story and screenplay that will make you smile, feeling glad you watched it.)

BHEJA FRY POST CARD

You have a basket containing ten apples. You have ten friends, who each desire an apple. You give each of your friends one apple.

After a few minutes each of your friends has one apple each, yet there is an apple remaining in the basket. How?

My little doodle pad.

A young man was taking an afternoon nap. After he woke up, he told his friend, 'I just dreamed that you gave me a pearl necklace for Valentine's day. Do you think it means?'
'You'll know tonight,' he said.
That evening, he was going home with a small package and gave it to his wife. 'Delighted as she opened it, only to find a book entitled 'The meaning of dreams'.'

CAMPUS LIVE

== A condolence meet was held on 2nd Feb. on the sad demise of Respected Late Dr. C. I. Jhalu, former Dean of B.J. Medical College and an eminent Professor of Pathology, College faculty and members of Private Practising Association of Pathologists and Microbiologists had assembled to pay their respect and pray for the peace of his soul.

== Anatomy Department organised an exhibition on 13th Feb. The event saw enthusiastic and active participation of 1st year students who left everybody stunned with their scientific, attractive and informative models and displays. The exhibit demonstrating "Lower extremities and Inguinal Region" was awarded the first prize. Indeed a fabulous attempt to promote better learning in students!!!

== Dr. Meenu Jain, RD in Physiology, presented a paper on "Evaluation of effect of Methyldopa on Diabetic Retinopathy" in APICON-2011, which also got published in JPP.

SOMETHING QUOTED

I very strongly believe that education and sports go hand in hand which helps in building strong character and leaders. Formal education with the joy of learning combined with sports will establish a long lasting and perfect partnership. Today's youth needs strong guidance and an opportunity to hone their budding talent.

FACE TO FACE

Prashman interviewed Dr. Mira Desai, Professor, Dept. of Pharmacology, and ex-in-charge of Gymkhana. Excerpts from the interview are as follows.

Prashman: What is the range of activities covered under Gymkhana?

Dr. Mira Desai: Gymkhana covers all student activities, cultural events, indoor and outdoor sports such as TT, chess, carom, badminton and cricket tournaments and such entertainment related activities in the college on regular basis. We also have a Gym facility in the institution.

Prashman: Ethos and attitudes of the students evolve with time. What are the positive and negative nuances of students behavior these days?

Dr. Mira Desai: No doubt students today are a plethora of skill and talent. They are creative, expressive and quiet well-groomed. But somewhere they dissent the fact that they lack sense of belonging and responsibility towards the institution. It is their individualistic attitude which if replaced by a more coherent and integrated approach, probably can help them do much better than what they currently do. Also, with such huge number of students, the scope for nurturing creative pursuits increases manifold. Proper channelization, therefore becomes the key.

Prashman: We have many State and National level college fests lined up during the year. How should participating and interested students go ahead with them??

Dr. Mira Desai: Ironically, not many students are aware who the gymkhana in-charge is. The best way to go ahead is to organize themselves effectively and choose an able representative who can ensure that student interest are conveyed on a time to time basis to the faculty. Sadly there exists a communication gap between different batches too. So, its better that students overcome their hesitation and approach the professors. We are more than ready to help them in our maximum capacity.

Prashman: What can sports enthusiasts expect as far as the infrastructure in the college is concerned?

Dr. Mira Desai: I have always been in favor of upgrading the available facilities. As we all are aware, the gymkhana is under renovation, a separate Girls and Boys room is under way and the canteen too will be upgraded. I had taken special pains to get the badminton court reconstructed for students and resident doctors to use. When the college is doing so much for the students, they too should realize that benefits come with a responsibility. They should not mishandle college property and ours being a Government institution, their carelessness and lack of maintenance will bear an effect on future generations.

Prashman: A piece of advice to the students when we talk about the decorum of the institution being maintained specially during any fest.
DMD: Students should be responsible and conduct themselves in a sound way. I was very impressed by the level of management and organization that I witnessed in the recently concluded B.J. Beats. It provided me an excellent opportunity to interact with young generation.

Prashman: How do you like the idea of establishing a student body to improve the existing way of conducting extra curricular events in our college?

Dr. Mira Desai: I got your point... See we too had a student body to look into their affairs and voice their concerns but again their internal problems led to the dissolution of such a system. I sincerely feel, it is a collective responsibility of students and faculty to communicate with each other and find best possible ways to improve and promote such activities.

Prashman: Finally, how will you sum up your experience in all these years as a Gymkhana in-charge?

DMD: Oh it has been excellent... deeply satisfying and enjoyable. I tried to do the best for students be it renovation work or purchasing sports equipment or organizing events. I got to interact with them on close quarters and could come across few very talented individuals whom I still remember. Overall...it was a magnificent experience.
